Bed racers issue challenge at Haliburton carnival

The seemingly lost art of bed racing will see a phoenix-like return to prominence this weekend as the Rotary Club of Haliburton challenges all comers. The race will be one of the features of the 1986 Haliburton Winter Carnival.

Race co-ordinator Ken Rydman confirmed that the community championship team, fielded by the Rotary for $100 in top prize money. The race is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 12:30 beginning at the United Church parking lot and charging down the Main Street to a spectacular finish at the stop lights.

Each bed must be propelled by no more than four pushers and carry at least one rider. Only people power may be used to move the wheeled slumber sleds.

fishing derby, skating carnival, cross-country and downhill skiing events, an international dart tournament, snowmobile races, a hockey game and much more.

The centre two pages of this week's edition of The Times features a complete schedule of the winter carnival activities.

Club, will be on the line to defend their title. Rydman noted that it has been some time since a formally sanctioned bed race had been held in the community, but he assured this reporter that the championship crown indeed did belong to the local organizers.

This year the champs will find some stiff competition as teams from the Haliburton Hospital, the Haliburton Bantam Huskies the Ministry of Natural Resources and the high school teachers have entered the fray.

The teams will be racing

Those taking part are expected to be dressed in costume and provide an entertaining spectacle for the audience lining the route.

The race spokesman said the only rule of the contest is that there should be no cheating. He said there were no other rules.

Anyone interested in entering a team in the bed race should contact the event chairman, Dave Bishop at 457-1440.

The return of the bed race is just one of many activities planned for the weekend carnival in Haliburton. The schedule includes an ice

Second snowmobile fatality reported

The second snowmobiler death in as many weeks has been reported by the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Dead is 44 year old Gordon Zavitz of Fonthill, Ontario. His death occurred early Saturday evening on Kawagama Lake. His is the second snowmobile fatality and follows by only four days the death of Paul Deveau of Scarborough.

According to the police, Zavitz was standing beside his machine, approximately 150 feet from shore when the mishap occurred. The police speculate he was attempting to start his machine when a second snowmobile driven by 33 year old Robert Lambe of Harcourt Township approached the scene.

Lambe was apparently travelling at a high rate of speed when his snowmobile struck Zavitz throwing him 30 feet. According to the police, the man died instantly.

Lambe has been charged with dangerous operation of a motor vehicle causing death and impaired operation of a motor vehicle causing death. The man will appear in court in Minden March 5 to answer the charges.

The investigating officer is Constable Ben Manuge.

The coroner was Dr. Holliday-Rhodes.

Roll over

Wet pavement is being blamed for a single car accident February 19 on Highway 121 in Minden Township.

According to the OPP, Allan Pearson, 20, of Kinmount, lost control of his vehicle on the slick pavement and drove it into the ditch. The vehicle rolled over before finally coming to rest.

The driver of the car was uninjured, however the vehicle sustained $8000 damages.

Constable Boyd Jarvis is the investigating officer.

Collision

Slippery road conditions were again the cause of an accident February 7 on Bayshore Acres Road near 118 in Dysart Township.

According to the police, a delivery van being driven by Laverne Lemoire, 52, of Douro, Ontario skidded on the snow covered street and slid into a car being driven by Jill Cook, 37, of Dysart Township.

Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $1200.

Constable Brian Ladurantaye was the investigating officer.

80 begin marching to a different drum

The Legion Hall in Haliburton has been echoing to the sound of marching feet lately as members of the newly-formed army cadet corps are put through their paces.

Canada's newest corps became a reality in December, after members of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 129 lobbied for support from the community and the Royal Canadian Army Cadets. Joan Irish spearheaded the campaign beginning soon after she was elected President of Branch 129 in May.

She knew that a survey carried out several years ago indicated there was support in the county for a cadet corps and believed public interest remained. "I felt there was still an interest and I felt there was a need for teenagers to get involved in something. By forming a corps, I hoped we could channel their energy into something constructive. I hoped we could begin during the International Year of the Youth," she said recently.

Once permission was granted to form the corps, a series of public meetings was held to gauge support.

At a meeting in September, Peter Krisjansen, general manager of the Army Cadets, said he would like to see a commitment from 40 young people to ensure a corps of 30 active cadets. If there was a shortage of members, the corps could begin operation under the auspices of the Lindsay Corps, he said.

As it turns out, the Haliburton Corps can stand on its own. Since being officially declared a cadet corps on December 1 (within Joan Irish's self-imposed deadline), 80 youngsters have signed up.

"Because there are more people joining every week, we will have to begin a waiting list. We have young people from Haliburton, Minden, West Guilford and Irondale," she said, emphasising the corps is open to young adults age 13-19 from throughout the county.

Females make up a large share of the enrolment, a reflection of national statistics that show 2000 of the 8000 members are female. "So far we have had all kinds of co-operation from Base Borden and our support unit, Base Trenton. Because of the size of our corps, the army has said it would make every effort to include our cadets to camp this summer at Ipperwash near Lake Huron," she commented.

Besides the optional two to six week stints at Ipperwash, the cadets learn military drill at their weekly two hour meetings and receive classroom training in map use, rifle safety, field craft, survival training, search and rescue techniques, citizenship and other fields. Senior Cadets can attend specialized camps where they will receive training in mountaineering, parachute jumping and Arctic indoctrination.

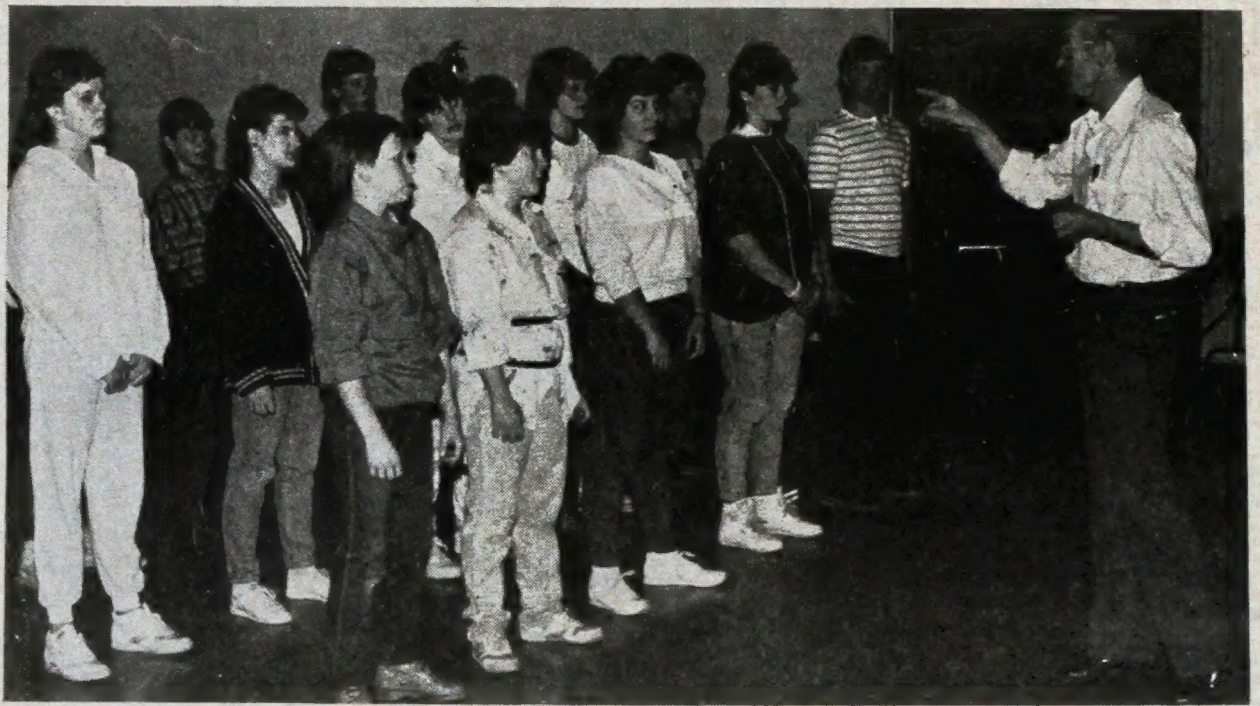

Mrs. Irish also hopes some of the cadets will either join the Branch 129 Pipe Band or form a band of their own.

The cadets can also use their training as a springboard to a military career. "Several cadets have already said they want to join the army. Their training here will more than just prepare them for a military career. Half their time spent in cadets counts toward their army career in terms of retirement."

At present, Wayne Wood, a 25 year army veteran, is the Commanding Officer of the Corps. "I have to say Wayne Wood is the driving force behind the organization and he, along with Luke Schell (Training Officer) and Tim Casey (Supply Officer), has worked very hard to get this going."

Joan and Gerald Irish are responsible for the ever-increasing administrative duties.

The overwhelming response from young people, means the corps needs more adult instructors and volunteers. "We desperately need younger women who are interested in becoming instructors or helpers, even as civilian instructors," Irish said.

Since the corps is in the formative stages, the uniforms and much of the equipment needed have not arrived, but when they do, the converted office and storage space in the basement of the hall will be bursting at the seams, according to the legion president and there are hopes that the corps will have its own building eventually.

The corps also needs a name. Since the Legion Branch 129 is the sponsoring body, the organization is known officially as Number 1129 Royal Canadian Army Corps, but a search is on for a name that reflects the history of Haliburton County.

Commanding Officer Wayne Wood said two names are under consideration. "Brady's Rangers" in honour of the British engineer and surveyor who worked on the construction of the Peterson Road during the war of 1812 and 'Niven's Rangers' after Alex Niven, Manager of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company and the first warden of Haliburton County.

Ministry proposes annual angling licence for provincial residents

The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources is proposing a $10-a-year angling licence for Ontario residents age 18-64 and a $5 a year licence for residents 65 and over.

Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio told the Ontario Legislature recently that a condition of the proposal is that most of the revenues generated by the licence be used directly to improve Ontario's angling fisheries, and also that the licence meet with the acceptance of the anglers of Ontario.

"We feel that majority of anglers support a resident fishing licence as a means of helping to pay for the protection, maintenance and rebuilding of the resource they use," he said.

"We would like to see a licence introduced in time for the 1987 fishing season. However, before we go any further with this proposal, we will make sure the public has a chance to give us their opinion and to participate in shaping the conditions - including the cost - of the licence."

Mr. Kerrio said the draft proposal presented to the Legislature recently is to be considered only a starting point for discussion and negotiation.

A round of public meetings will be held across the province during the next three months to enable public participation in formulating the final terms of the angling licence. The public will also be asked to comment on how the revenues generated by the licence should be spent.

The Ontario government spends more than $30-million annually on fisheries programs. The fisheries budget dollars go toward fish and habitat protection, public education and co-operative programs, cleaning up polluted fisheries habitat, fish stocking and research.

"Much more still needs to be done," Mr. Kerrio said.

"We estimate that a resident sport-fishing licence could add $10-million to our fisheries management budget. The increased revenues would allow us to expand our programs and tackle many more projects to improve sport fishing across the province."

The introduction of a resident sport fishing licence has received support from groups such as the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, the Northern Ontario Tourist Outfitters Association, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists and the Canadian Wildlife Federation.

Vandals damage outdoor tap

As a result of the continuing damage to the public water tap located outside the firehall, Anson, Hindon and Minden council has been asked to consider an alternate location near the centre of the village.

The request was made by Gene Newell, Chief Operator of the Minden Water System, following extensive flooding of the municipal parking lot on January 26. The flooding was caused when the tap was pulled from the wall.

A discussion of the frequent vandalism experienced at the public facility was held at the first meeting of council in January. The chief operator said the tap had been a constant target of vandalism in the past and had required repairs on an almost daily basis during the summer.

Newell also expressed concern over the number of times he has found the tap running during his daily inspections.

Council considered the possibility of locating the tap inside the public washroom but rejected the idea because the washrooms are locked overnight, also due to past incidents of vandalism.

Deputy reeve Bern Berry emphasised the importance of the water supply to residents of the municipality who do not have running water and to vacationers.

Following the latest incident, Newell asked council to consider installing the public tap on a firehydrant in a more central location. He also suggested the well located on Newcastle Street be restored to Ministry of Environment standards to provide an alternative source of drinking water. Council agreed to the suggestion and requested detailed cost estimates.

Small price to pay

A suggestion from the Minister of Natural Resources, Vincent Kerrio, that resident fishermen be assessed an annual licence fee is a good one. In fact, we wonder why the province has not moved sooner to introduce this licence.

The suggestion, contained in an article elsewhere in today's edition of The Times, proposes a $10 annual fee for anglers 18 to 64 years of age, with a $5 charge for those over 65. According to the MNR, most of the money raised by these licence fees will be used to maintain and build the province's fisheries.

It is this latter provision which we feel will appeal to most anglers and even sway some of those who are reluctant to accept government interference where none has been before. In fact, the province has been spending a great deal of money already to maintain the fisheries. These expenditures were drawn from general revenue. We see no reason why those who obtain the major benefit from the sport should not willingly make a direct contribution to its betterment.

The age limits ensure that our young people and seniors will not be restricted in their enjoyment of the sport.

The angling licence proposal has been proposed in the past, only to be withdrawn by a government too willing to listen to a vocal few. The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters have supported the idea as well as other provincial organizations. Their endorsements provide a solid base for the Minister. Hopefully, individual fishermen will see the wisdom of the proposal and add their support to the suggestion either through letters directed to the Minister or by attending one of the public meetings planned for the near future.

By supporting this proposal, anglers will be ensuring that the future of fishing in Ontario will continue to be strong.

Community grants

- by John Eakins, MPP -

I was pleased to announce improvements to the Capital Conservation Program last week which will benefit recreational facilities throughout Ontario.

In our part of the province more than $900,000 in lottery grants will help Eastern Ontario keep pace with the changing recreational needs of its citizens.

The West Guilford Community Centre will receive $15,500 to help improve the centre located in Dysart.

Another facility in the township, the Harcourt Community Centre, will receive $10,000 for building improvements.

Finally, a cheque for $7,491 was sent to the Township of Bicroft for improvements to the Bicroft Pool and Playground.

These facilities are important, particularly in our rural communities and I am pleased to see them receiving assistance.

A second area where assistance has been improved involves financial aid to our students attending college and universities.

As promised in the budget of treasurer Robert Nixon, the government has taken the first steps toward the revitalization of the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP). Colleges and Universities Minister Gregory Sorbara told members of the Legislature that changes to OSAP will improve access to post secondary schools and help make OSAP the best student assistance program in Canada.

Mr. Sorbara said the

As a member of the newly-formed steering committee for the Family Violence Safety Network for Haliburton County, I would like to take this opportunity to reach your readers.

Family violence concerns everyone. Is there someone you know who is in this situation, be it friend, family or neighbour?

The committee has set up a panel discussion and a movie in each of the following communities, Minden, Haliburton, Wilberforce and Dorset in the coming weeks, to reach the public and to ask for their help in making the resource available to those who need it. By coming to a meeting you are not labelled a battered wife or a wife beater, but shows your concern for your fellow man.

We need to reach out and give the support we would like to receive if we were in need of help. With good response from our professionals and agencies, we now need you to make it work.

Please try to make a meeting in your community. Speak out and be heard.

For most of Ontario, this has been a winter of near-continuous snow, to the delight of skiers. For the natural world, the influence of snow cover is very important.

One of the first serious looks at the ecological importance of snow came from a Russian scientist named Formozov in the 1940's. He grouped wildlife into three types; "chionophobes" who avoid snow by migrating southwards; "chioneuphores", such as moose, fox and mice, who can tolerate snowy winters; and "chionophiles" or snow-lovers, such as the snowshoe hare and ptarmigan that actively adapt to a snowy environment. Perhaps Formozov was ahead of his time - his labels sound like something from pop psychology that you could apply to your neighbours.

A blanket of snow is aptly named. Its insulating value ensures that even when winter air temperatures fluctuate wildly, climate beneath the snow remains stable at just below freezing. In this sheltered world, the secret communities of woodland mice, voles and shrews tunnel their way from one grassy tussock to another, safe from both winter storms and searching owls.

In a mild and snowless winter, this shelter is missing and the continuous freezethaw cycle robs forage vegetation of its nutrition. If these conditions persist, the populations of these small mammals suffer. Some researchers have suggested that the regular population explosions and declines of mice and other small mammals are closely related to the previous year's snow conditions. Because these communities are at the base of the food chain, the populations of foxes, coyotes, hawks and owls also tend to fluctuate in step with their prey.

Ironically, the importance of snow was realized partly through studies on the effects of snowmobiles. These machines compact the snow, often making it too dense for small mammals to tunnel through, and allowing cold temperatures to penetrate. In areas of heavy snowmobile usage, high mortality of both snow loving animals and wintering plants can result.

For deer and moose, little snow means an easy winter. But for those tiny tunnel engineers of the forest floor, just the opposite is true. For them, "thinking snow" is a matter of survival.

Ellen Knight, 101

Ellen Knight, the oldest resident of Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home in Minden, was joined by staff members, friends, family and member of the auxiliary in celebrating her one hundred and first birthday on Thursday, February 6.

Among the family members who attended, were Mrs. Knight's daughters Ernice Warder of Ingoldsby and Anetta Jackson of Kemptville, grandchildren Joe Warder of Minden and his wife Shirley, Jean Neville and her husband Bryan of Lochlin and four of her seven great-grandchildren, Carrie Warder and Tommy, Cameron and Philip Neville.

Mrs. Knight was born on February 6, 1885 in Alice Township near Pembroke, the first of six children in William and Emma Gagnon's family.

In 1892 the Gagnons moved to Copper Cliff where Mr. Gagnon worked in the mine smelter.

At the turn of the century, the family purchased a farm at the present townsite of Lively.

After working as a post master and store clerk at Creighton, Ellen attended the Toronto Bible College from 1910 until her graduation two years later.

After returning to her job as a post master, Ellen married Edison Knight in 1916 and went on to raise two daughters.

Mrs. Knight is a life member of the former Women's Missionary Society and the Copper Cliff United Church Women and was an active member of the Sudbury Horticultural Society.

She was an invaluable member of the Canadian Red Cross Society during World War II and belonged to the Copper Cliff Rebekah Lodge.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Knight moved to Ingoldsby in 1967 to be closer to her daughter Ernice, then went to live at Hyland Crest in 1975.

During the party at the auditorium of Hyland Crest, members of the Minden Brownies and Guides performed a special rendition of Happy Birthday for the honoured guest.

Family members expressed their appreciation to the nurses and staff at Hyland Crest for their skill and loving care shown to Mrs. Knight as she begins her 102nd year.

A new dairy policy

- by Bill Scott, MP - powder through its offer-to-purchase programs.

- The Returns Adjustment Formula, which is used to update the support price, is under review, with a new pricing mechanism to be established during 1986.

- The direct federal subsidy of $6.03 per hectolitre (100 litres) for industrial milk produced for domestic requirements, and for 1.1 million hectolitres produced for the special export program will continue.

- To reflect a more market-oriented approach, the federal government will no longer fund the Canadian Dairy Commission's cost of buying, storing and marketing butter. This move will save taxpayers $15 million per year.

- Any butter price increases to consumers will depend on how much of the increased costs are absorbed by butter processors. Even if all these costs were passed on their effects on prices would be minimal. The elimination of the federal funding for butter marketing costs will mean that butter producers will have to become more attuned to market demand, rather than simply producing unlimited quantities of butter without having to worry about storage costs.

- There will be a review of CDC export marketing practices to ensure that private sector exporters have a fair chance to participate in dairy export trade.

- The Minister for International Trade will press during the next round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations for improvements in Canada's balance of trade in cheeses.

- The Import Control List has been revised to cover bulk dry blends containing 50% or more non-fat milk solids. This change eliminates loopholes which allowed American dry blends to enter the Canadian market to the detriment of domestic producers and processors.

- Shippers in the U.S. created blended milk by mixing sugar and skim milk powder. Their sole purpose in doing so was to evade trade restrictions which were placed on skim milk many years ago.

major change is an enrichment of the amount of grant funding for students from low income families in order to reduce the amount that parents are expected to contribute. As well, the method of calculating the grant entitlement for married students has been changed to recognize the level of living costs faced by a family.

In addition to a four percent increase for all direct education costs, including an increase in the personal and living allowances, Mr. Sorbara said special emphasis will be placed on part-time students and students taking upgrading. Funding of the Ontario Special Bursary Plan will be increased by 33 percent.

The view from the fence

-by Gary Kenney-

If Mr. Peterson only knew. He could win the hearts and minds of thousands of municipal politicians with one move. All he would have to do is create a Ministry of the Miscellaneous (MM). And what would MM do? Nothing really, that's the beauty of it.

It could be housed in a small room somewhere at Queen's Park, maybe with the floor wax, mops and spare rolls of red tape. All that would be needed is a desk with a telephone, tape recorder and computer. MM would never have any visitors, just thousands of phone calls every day. Maybe there would have to be two phones.

A typical piece of MM business would go something like this: (Phone rings nine times then tape recorder answers. It's government policy everywhere to let a phone ring nine times before answering.)

"Ministry of Miscellaneous, I'll be right with you." (It's also government policy everywhere to place all incoming calls on hold for two minutes and forty-six seconds before getting back to them.)

"Sorry to keep you. Please wait for the tone and state your municipality. Then wait for the beep and state the subject. Then wait for the whistle and state your clearance code. Then wait for the siren and do as instructed."

(Tone sounds.) "City of North Pork."
(Beep sounds.) "Extra billing by taxi drivers."
(Whistle sounds.) "Tory is a four letter word."
(Siren sounds.) "Clearance OK, please hang up."
Faster than you can lose a bet on the Leafs, the computer then spits out an official Ministry letter to North Pork denying extra billing by taxi drivers on the grounds that:

(a) It contravenes Section 23D, subsection 144/65, paragraph 2, sentence 6, words 12 through 27 inclusive, Ontario Municipal Act RSO/DDG/HQ/34/56/HUT/HUT/HUT, Slant Right, Flankers Left, Roll out on Three.

(b) Six out of ten white mice at the National Research Council died after three weeks of receiving continuous extra billing instead of their meals.

(c) A Gallup Poll shows that 77% of all ice fishermen who eat breakfast while still in their pyjamas would vote against extra billing if they understood what it was all about.

(d) None of the above. Just don't do it or we'll get mad.

See it's not the reasons that are important, just the fact that a Ministry is against the whole idea and will take the slack. Remember the good-cop/bad-cop scenes in Kojak where one guy would threaten to weld the criminal's face to the bottom of his shoe and then the other guy would step in between and say, "Leave him alone Arnie, he's a human being too, y'know."

And right after the next commercial the criminal would be confessing his heart out to Arnie. Same idea here. Politicians have got feelings too you know.

That Metro master of political survival, Allan Lamport, used to say, "If you're going to stick around you gotta sit on the fence and keep both ears to the ground." So what every politician needs, when he or she is being pushed from both sides of those white pickets, is a bad-cop to step in, get ugly and let the local rep look good. That's where the Ministry of Miscellaneous comes in.

A lot of times a regular Ministry will do. Around here the MNR does a good job of taking the heat for things like Hazard Land Zoning, poor fishing and deer hunting. And the MOE is taking the bruises for a Minden sewage system that has a hard time paying its phone bill let alone hundreds of thousands of dollars for the original construction.

But there are days when there's just no one to turn to. When no matter what decision is made, some voters are going to be as grumpy as Brian Mulroney in a room without mirrors. And not a Ministry in sight to lay it all off on. Where are they when you really need them?

So come on Mr. Premier. Get the Ministry of Miscellaneous on track. Two Minden councils can only stall so long. There's over 50 acres of fairgrounds and community parkland to play with and at least three voters against every idea for its use.

Village misfits like the Seniors, Fair Board, Kinsmen, ATV buffs and snowmobilers are pushing for, of all the ridiculous ideas, community activities. Balanced against such radical pressure is a well thought out alternative...worm ranching. It's quiet, no dust, the fences are really low so they don't interfere with neighbouring picture windows, and the little darlings don't sass when they're picked on.

If that letter from the Ministry doesn't come soon though, council may have to do the unthinkable and climb off the fence.

Looking for a lucky legume recipe

A contest to find the tastiest way to serve legumes is being held in Haliburton County. The recipe contest is being organized by the Haliburton County Nutrition Month Committee.

The contest asks participants to submit their favourite recipes which use legumes (kidney beans, split peas, chick peas, white beans, lima beans, lentils, pinto beans, black beans and soy beans.) Each of the recipes will be judged by a committee with the top ones being selected for the final judging. In the last stage of the judging, contestants will be asked to prepare their recipe and bring it to the Senior Citizens Drop In Centre in Haliburton for judging.

According to one of the organizers, nutritionist Rosie Berardi, legumes are a good source of fibre, iron and protein. She says they are often under utilized in today's diets because consumers are unfamiliar with them and their preparation. The contest is one way to acquaint consumers with the legume.

Recipes must be submitted on a standard sheet of paper, (8 1/2 x 11) and include at least one legume ingredient. The recipe can be for soup, appetizer, salad or main course and can be prepared in either metric or imperial units. The organizers request that the number of servings, the list of ingredients and the method of preparation be included with the recipe. An individual can enter as many times as he or she wants, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper. Don't forget to add your name, address and phone number.

The deadline for the recipes to be submitted is March 7. A special reception will be held March 19 at which the finalists will present their completed recipes for judging. Prizes for the winning entries have been donated by the Highland Health Food Store in Haliburton, Easton's Valu-Mart, Dollo's IGA and The Storeroom, in Minden. The winning recipes will be reprinted in the Valu-Mart flyer.

Berardi said she hopes the contest will help highlight the theme of Nutrition Month, "Eat Well, Live Well" and introduce consumers to the many tasty possibilities legumes offer.

Recipes should be sent to: Recipe Contest, Box 651, Haliburton, Ontario K0M 1S0.

Council bans races at Kinmount site

The owner of property in Somerville Township, south of Kinmount, that was the site of the Burnt River National Hare Scramble in November, has been advised to refrain from holding any further motorcycle racing events by the township lawyer, Douglas Christie.

Kenneth Saunders, a member of the Oshawa Motorcycle Club which sponsored the event, was informed the race is a commercial use of the property which is prohibited under the township's zoning bylaw. The race, which took place on November 3, was the target of criticism by residents who live along the ninth concession.

A delegation attending the November meeting of Somerville Council expressed concern over the increased traffic along the road, the condition of the road, the safety of children and excessive noise. In the letter from the municipal solicitor, Mr. Saunders was advised that any failure to comply with the township's bylaw would result in legal action.

The Hare Scramble which attracted over 90 riders was staged near Kinmount for the first time after being held near Oshawa for the previous four years.

Committee seeks support of community

The series of public forums organized by the Haliburton Action Committee of the Family Violence Safety Network are being held to inform the general public of the problems of family violence and of possible solutions. The meetings are not restricted to victims of abuse.

This point was emphasized repeatedly at the first meeting held at the Minden Community Centre on Wednesday evening.

Of the 25 people who attended the forum, several members of the audience stated the attendance would have been higher if people had not been afraid they would be thought of as victims of abuse by taking part in the meeting.

Sergeant Bill Bailey of the Minden detachment of the OPP stressed that while the primary goal of the network was to establish services to assist victims of violence, community participation is of paramount importance.

While attendance was lower than anticipated, the concrete discussions during the two and a half hour meeting proved invaluable to those attending. The session began with a documentary film focussing on an actual case history.

Jeannie, a mother of five, relates the story of her marriage that ended after years of physical abuse and fear.

In the beginning, her husband was her mainstay and her source of strength, she said, but after two years of happiness, her husband turned violent. He threw a pot of tea at her, scalding both her and her baby. He repeatedly struck her, once breaking a shovel across her back. "He wasn't ashamed to leave marks," she said. "He was almost proud that I carried a shiner the next day. My biggest fear is that he would blow my head off and in the end, I realized if I didn't leave him, he would kill me."

After receiving help and encouragement from a sympathetic police sergeant following an assault, Jeannie sought refuge in a shelter for battered women. She and her five children were finally able to find a safe refuge and a new life after years of isolation and abuse. Eventually she sought a divorce on the grounds of persistent cruelty.

Her husband is also featured in the film.

He describes himself as an ordinary, timid person who would never resort to violence in the workaday world. "I don't see myself as a violent person. I don't have that inside of me. I don't know why I got involved in that (abuse) with Jeannie," he said. "It wasn't her that I was mad at. It was the situation. She was the closest thing at hand. She just happened to be there."

Yet the husband shows little remorse, suggesting some of his actions were justified.

For her part, Jeannie comments she would not have continued living on the farm with her husband after the beatings began, if she had known shelters were available.

Second marriage

Later in the meeting, it was noted that the husband had married again and his second wife also turned to a shelter for help.

At the conclusion of the film, Sergeant Bailey stressed the story was an actual case history. While statistics show one woman in ten is battered, Bailey said many professionals believe more than half of all Canadian families experience some form of violence.

"This county is no better or no worse than anywhere else, but we should all look at it as a community problem," he commented. "In 1984 there were 58 incidents of family assault in Haliburton County that we are aware of. Unfortunately two of these resulted in homicides. In 1985 there was 54 assaults reported."

The highest number of incidents occur during the winter months in January and February and increase alarmingly in March Bailey said. It is for this reason that February has been declared "Break the Silence" month.

The sergeant dispelled several myths on family violence that alcohol, drugs, poverty or mental illness are responsible. "The main reason men batter is because they get away with it," he said.

The laws dealing with family violence have changed.

In the past, a victim of abuse was required to press charges, however recent changes in the law allow the police to lay an charge and Crown Attorneys have been instructed to vigorously prosecute cases, he said. "It has been shown that when men who battered their wives were brought to court, the incidents of violence were almost eliminated. What this county has lacked in the past is a program offering options for abused women. There is no way that women have to live that kind of life."

Sara Fernald, the co-ordinator of the Family Violence Safety Network told the meeting the Safety Network has been expanded to include this area because so many women from rural regions had sought help at the Crossroads Shelter established by the YWCA in YWCA case co-ordinator Sara Fernald emphasises a point during the Wednesday night meeting held to discuss the creation of a Haliburton County Action Committee and a Family Violence Safety Network. Participating in the panel discussion were, Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, CAS social worker Gena Robertson, and Sergeant Bill Bailey of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Peterborough. To date, a 24 hour, toll free number (1-800-461-7656) has been established to provide assistance and information to victims of abuse. In addition, a program has been set up to provide transportation to shelters for victims of family violence and safe homes are also being established in the area.

Fernald expressed hope that a full-time outreach counsellor could be hired to serve the county, but emphasised that the program cannot depend solely on professionals. "We need strong support from the community."

Value change

Not only must there be support for the program in this area but there has to be a major shift in community values. To eliminate the attitude that men have a right to beat their wives will require "nothing short of a social revolution," Fernald commented.

While much of the emphasis of the campaign against family violence has focussed on the abuse to which wives are subjected, attention was also focussed on the effect of violence on children.

Gena Robertson, a social worker with the Children's Aid Society in Haliburton, told the meeting her office has to deal with at least one incident of child abuse each month. "And there are probably ten to twelve more incidents for each one reported."

"The investigations we do are primarily concerned with sexual abuse with physical abuse ranking second and psychological abuse third. Psychological problems arise when children witness their mothers being assaulted. People may think the children are alright if their father doesn't hit them, but the children internalize their feelings and often problems show up later in their behaviour."

Often the children blame themselves, believing the assault would not have taken place if they had been better behaved or that they could have protected their mothers.

Family abuse occurs in generation after generation. Men who have witnessed abuse when they were children tend to abuse their own families and women who experienced abuse as children accept abuse from their husbands. "We have to break that cycle," Robertson commented.

During the discussion on Wednesday evening, several other issues were raised, particularly the lack of facilities in Haliburton County. It was pointed out that often battered wives do not have the financial resources to hire legal counsel and must travel to Lindsay to receive Legal Aid.

Sergeant Bailey pointed out the need for a crisis-intervention team to provide help for victims of violence following the arrest of a husband who has been abusing his family. A need was also expressed for improved court facilities to include criminal trials and cases involving young offenders.

Sara Fernald noted some of these problems will be addressed by the proposed legal issues committee being established under the auspices of the Family Violence Safety Network. It was also noted that there is a need for teachers and education officials to become involved in the campaign to break the silence.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, said that while he could foresee some role for bylaw enforcement officers (who administer welfare (programs) in the campaign against family violence, he felt the county government should become involved in establishing a shelter for women who need protection.

As the meeting drew to a close, members of the action committee stressed the need for a full-time outreach counsellor in the county and emphasised the meetings being held during the month of February are open to the public to rally community support and are not restricted to, or designed for, people who have experienced family violence.

Sara Fernald told the gathering the campaign has already gained support and has also been instrumental in helping women in the county who needed to escape from violent domestic situations.

The second in the series of meetings to be held in Haliburton County will take place at the Haliburton Community Centre on Thursday, February 13 beginning at 7:30 p.m. The documentary film "Love Battered and Bruised" will be screened again.

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey, Crown Attorney Alex Smith and Dr. Dean Stokes will be in attendance along with Sergeant Bailey, Gena Robertson and Sara Fernald.

Juveniles begin march to provincial championship

The Minden Monarch Juveniles completed a clean sweep of their round-robin playoff series defeating Pickering Village on Thursday evening and skating to a decisive victory over Omeme on Friday.

Prior to last week's game in the series, the Monarchs blanked Pickering Village 10-0 and earned a 9-5 win over Omeme in the opening game of the series.

On Thursday, playing in Pickering Village, Bernie Upton scored twice as the Monarchs defeated the host club 4-2. Lennie Johnston and Dennis McKee were the other goal scorers for the Monarchs.

On Friday evening at Minden arena, hockey fans were treated to an exciting makeup game between Omeme and the Monarchs. The visitors played a determined game but were no match for the home club as the Monarchs romped to a 9-1 win.

The Minden squad dominated the game from the opening faceoff. Omeme goalie John Finn played an exceptional game and was especially effective in the opening period when he made one save after another as the Monarchs controlled the play in front of the net.

Gord Wood broke the scoreless deadlock at the 10:45 mark of the second period on a pass from Barry Boice. 45 seconds later Scot Hamilton scored his first of three goals deflecting a pass from Barry Boice and Bernie Upton.

With 3:03 remaining in the second frame, Boomer Stamp blasted in a shot from the faceoff circle after picking up a pass from Jeff Howe. Even while playing shorthanded, the Monarchs controlled the game, aggressively forechecking and breaking up the Omeme offensive drives.

With only seven players dressed for the game, Omeme was playing at a big disadvantage and the pace of the game against the fast skating Monarch forwards took its toll in the final frame.

The Monarchs scored six unanswered goals before Omeme spoiled goalie Vince Duchene's shutout with only 38 seconds remaining in the game. Scot Hamilton scored twice, including one unassisted marker to complete his hat trick and also added an assist. Lennie Johnston continued his strong play, notching two goals and assisting on one other.

Barry Boice added a goal and an assist and defence-man Greg Newell rounded out the scoring. With Minden's final marker, Assists also went to Doug Schell with three, Boomer Stamp with a pair, Jeff Howe and Bernie Upton with singles.

Two minors and a game misconduct to the Monarchs were the only penalties handed out.

Tonight (Wednesday February 12), Omeme will host the Monarchs in the first game of a best of five series, beginning at 8 p.m. On Friday the action resumes at Minden arena beginning at 8 p.m. The Monarchs will host the third game of the series on Sunday at Minden arena. The opening faceoff is at 4 p.m.

If a fourth game is necessary it will be played on February 19 in Omeme and, should the series go to the full five games, the final match will take place Friday, February 21 at 8 p.m. in Minden.

The winner of the series will advance to the Ontario semi-finals against either Frankford or Godfrey.

The Monarchs lost only one game in their semi-final series against Godfrey last year on their way to the Ontario championships.

Tykes take 'Caygeon title

The Minden Senior Tykes took part in the Bobcaygeon Winter Carnival Tournament on Saturday and came away champions.

Minden took on Oakwood in the first game and although they had many scoring chances, they fell behind when Oakwood's Falls. The teams played scoreless hockey until midway through the third period when Dennis Woods put Minden ahead 1-0.

With a minute left on the clock, Fenelon Falls pulled the goalie but the strategy backfired when Donald Todd scored the clincher for Minden.

Dennis Woods received a Bauer hockey bag as the Most Valuable Player of the game.

The Minden Tykes were presented with the championship trophy and each player was awarded a medallion. The boys put on a great team effort in both games and were deserving winners.

Ron Winnick opened the scoring late in the second period.

Minden stepped up the pressure in the third period and finally Dennis Woods tied the score midway through the frame with an assist from Donald Todd.

The teams remained tied at the end of regulation play forcing sudden death overtime. With 1:36 remaining in overtime Dennis Woods scored his second marker assisted by Tommy Neville.

The win advanced Minden to the championship game against Fenelon

Pee Wee season ends with win

The Minden Pee Wee A team ended their round-robin playoff series on a positive note defeating Port Perry 4-2 on Sunday but a pair of losses to the series winner Little Britain eliminated Minden from further playoff action.

Minden lost the first of two games to Little Britain 5-0 on February 1, but put on a much stronger effort against the top team in the league in the rematch on Thursday, February 6. Little Britain held a 2-0 lead when Captain Kent Taylor narrowed the margin after taking a pass from Joey Boyle and Rob Ackerblade at the 6:05 mark of third period.

However, the comeback attempt was shortlived as Little Britain struck for two goals at 3:28 mark and the 3:0s mark of the final frame to earn the win.

Little Britain went on to sweep the series with an 8-0 record. On Sunday February 9, the Minden Pee Wees took part in their second road trip in less than a week and returned home with a 4-2 win over Port Perry. Captain Kent Taylor paced his team's win with a hat trick. Ramdy Bull added a single to complete the scoring. Assists went to Joey Boyle and Mike Muli. Goalie Lorne Greer continued his strong play in the Minden nets. The win in the final game of the series gave the Pee Wees a 6-2 win-loss record.

The Minden Pee Wees take to the ice again on Saturday, February 22 in tournament in Haliburton.

Stephanie reports from Denmark

Minden area high school student Stephanie O'Brien is currently spending a year in Denmark as part of an exchange program co-ordinated by Rotary International. The Rotary Club of Minden is her local sponsor. Stephanie has agreed to share some of her experiences with our readers. In the following report, she offers her impressions of Denmark and relates some of her activities to date:

Hi from Denmark!

At last, after six long and busy months, I've found the time to write. First of all, I'd like to wish everyone a Happy New Year.

Well, I guess there are a few people wondering what I've been up to the past six months, so I'll try my best to give you an update.

It all began Wednesday, July 2, 1985 with many teary goodbyes and the start of an exciting and valuable trip. I think that I was in a constant dream up to the day I had to leave. Then, the shock came. I was taking an airplane that day and not coming back for an entire year. The beginning of my exchange must have been the most frightening part of my life, so far. After saying goodbye to my family at the airport, I told myself that I couldn't change things now and started to feel better.

The following day at six o'clock in the morning, I was being helped by a kind man who I would later get to know as Arnold Norregaard the chairman of the Danish Rotary Exchange. Twenty minutes later, I was being warmly greeted by my first host family.

The first two weeks were spent meeting hordes of people and basically familiarizing myself with my host family and the area.

Starting the third week, I was off to Language School for two weeks in a larger town. The two weeks went fairly quickly and, once again, I was tearfully saying goodbye to the Canadians and Americans I had met. It is amazing how close people can become in just two weeks.

The following two weeks I relaxed, sunbathing and swimming. My first host brother and sister and a few of their friends tried to teach me tennis in the evenings, but unfortunately had little luck.

Holidays had ended and it was time to start school. I was so nervous! Anyone who has switched schools knows how I felt. At first, it was extremely difficult to concentrate at school because I couldn't understand much, but gradually my Danish became better and better. After having lived in Denmark for four months, I was able to understand just about everything.

Christmas Holidays soon arrived and that meant saying goodbye to my friends because after the holidays I was starting a different school system. That was almost as difficult as saying goodbye to friends and family at home.

My Danish Christmas was disappointing. I feel uncomfortable saying that when there is a Danish exchange student in Minden Rotary Club right now, but I think I should be truthful. Maybe I was expecting too much. I was constantly looking for new customs but found few. I believe it could have been a combination of not finding differences and of being away from my family at Christmas. I received many gifts, but most meant nothing to me. That sounds strange coming from a person who has always loved giving and receiving gifts, but this Christmas I found out what is important to me. It was never the gifts that made me happy, but the meaning behind them.

The Danish school system is much different from the Canadian. Most children start at four or five years of age in a primary school and are not finished before the tenth grade. After that they may find work or choose from many different schools. It is similar to when students in Canada are finished high school, they have a choice from several universities or colleges. When a period of usually three years is completed, they can become employed or further their education. I believe most are finished after the "secondary school."

When I first started school in Denmark, I noticed three main differences. These are:

1. Teachers are called by their first names.

2. Students and teachers are on more of a friendly basis. I don't mean that a Canadian student and teacher cannot be friends, but I believe it is rare.

3. Students have more freedom, maybe promoting friendship between student and teacher and less rebellion.

Of course, those differences can sometimes cause problems. But I've seen them work in most situations while attending school in Denmark.

At the present, I've been attending a new school for the past three weeks. I'm enjoying it extremely.

The subjects I'm taking are: English, French, Geography, Danish, History, Music, Physical Education and Ancient History. My classmates take three others. They are: Latin, German and Mathematics.

I begin school at eight o'clock every morning. This means waking up at six o'clock in the morning. After having a shower, dressing, eating breakfast and getting my books ready for school, I walk to the bus station and catch a bus at ten minutes past seven. At a quarter to eight I am walking to school. It takes approximately fifteen minutes of fast walking. I think it helps me to wake up.

Most days I am home at half past two at the latest.

During free time, I have my things to do. Monday evenings are spent visiting friends or writing letters. Tuesdays I go swimming. Wednesdays after school I play badminton for two hours and have the evening free. Thursday nights I visit my first host family and afterwards, go to a club for teenagers. Friday evenings are spent relaxing or going to a party.

Saturdays are spent cleaning my messy room, writing letters or taking long walks in the park beside the castle. I am regularly out in the night at a party or discotheque. Discotheques are very popular in Europe. The only problem is that they open at approximately eleven o'clock p.m. and close at five or six in the morning.

Sundays are spent sleeping and doing homework. Once in a while I am very unfortunate and my free time is taken up by a presentation. I hate making presentations! It is almost the same as getting up once a year in school and making a speech. In the past seven months, I have made approximately twelve speeches and have two more coming up next month.

As for travelling, I have done very little. My first host family took me as far as a castle in the town where I live. My second host family hasn't taken me anywhere yet, but will be taking me to Copenhagen one day next month.

In one month I will move to my third host family. While living there I may have the possibility of travelling to France. When I think about the time period I've been in Denmark and how much I've actually seen I become depressed. But, most Danes don't seem to travel a great deal. This is most likely because the price of gasoline and automobiles.

I'm not sure, but I think you can travel from one side of Denmark to the other in less than four hours, so for a Danish person to travel two hours, it's quite a long trip. Besides arriving in Copenhagen, I've been there four other times. Three times for just one day and once for a four day holiday. I've also been to a small town called Koge twice, for two exchange student weekends.

When I become depressed about the amount of travelling I've done, I just remind myself of what is coming up in the next five months. The weekend before my birthday, I will be in Germany. Then in March, I am travelling to Berlin for four days with my classmates from my former school. On May 23 I will begin the best trip of all. I will be touring Europe for seventeen days with approximately fifty other exchange students. While on tour, we will visit W. Germany, Austria, Italy, France, Belgium and Holland.

I am presently living in a small town consisting of 1300 people. My house overlooks a small beautiful harbour and from my window I can see the castle which I've talked of. This is my favourite view in the entire town.

If you don't like Canadian weather stay in Canada because Denmark's is much worse! It has just finished raining and we haven't any snow because it has rained for four days straight.

There was no snow at Christmas time. While at home in Canada I've always wondered what it would be like not to have snow at Christmas. It's awful! Christmas is not Christmas without snow. At the most, we have had one month of snow where I am living.

Well, I hope that I've given you enough information of my past seven months because my wrist is broken (almost). Sorry for taking so long to write. Once again, a special thanks to Minden Rotary Club for allowing me to be here in Denmark. I'm looking forward to seeing everyone in five months.

Take care,
Stephanie O'Brien

New convener at Centre

by Donna Bailey

We are pleased to announce that we have a new Home Help Convenor. As many of you know, Darlene McElwain has been our convenor of Home Help for Haliburton and area for almost a year and a half. She has done an excellent job and we thank her for all her work. Jean Hollobon has agreed to take on Home Help convening for Haliburton and area, Minden and area, and Kinmount and area. Thank you Jean.

The purpose of the home help program is to provide good quality home help and maintenance at a reasonable rate to seniors and disabled persons who are unable to do it for themselves. The home help office and convenor will assist the client in finding someone to do housework, laundry, windows, minor repairs, grass cutting, snow removal, spring housecleaning, house painting, etc.

If you are in need of this service, please call our office at 457-2941. The rate is as per home helpers request - generally $5.00 per hour, and minimum wage for students (under 18 years). If you are interested in becoming a home helper, please call our office. We have forms for you to fill out with basic information as to what jobs you wish to do and the rate you wish to charge for each. We also require 2 references.

Our winter newsletter is now available for pick-up free of charge at our office. Vials of Life and Cold Air Masks are also available now. If you have any questions concerning the home help program or any other aspects of home support, please call our office any weekday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. or drop in. We are located in the Drag River municipal building opposite Emmerson Lumber in Haliburton.

A senior is a senior...

by Bruce Armstrong

A senior is a senior is a senior? Twice last week I was asked for the blue card (or is it green?) and had to admit that the date of my achieving the age of majority was still months away. But, a person is considered a 'senior' at the Drop-In Centre or in the Ontario Senior Games or in legislation, is about to publish its findings. Forcing a person to retire at age 65 may be discriminatory with respect to Section 15 of the Canadian Charter of Rights. Some communities have an untapped resource in the wealth of knowledge and expertise possessed by their seniors. One of the founding principles of the Older Adults Centres of Ontario (OACAO), present sponsors of the Ontario Senior Games, was that all seniors have a responsibility to self and others to remain contributing and participating members of their community. What about Haliburton?

Our Chamber of Commerce in November of 1985 quoted a population figure for Haliburton County and, projecting MP Bill Scott's estimate of 18% seniors, that means 2077 of you are over the Curling rink at age 55. Most banks give special recognition to their clients at 60, while Eastern Airlines recently lowered their senior's discount age to 62. The government's CPP and OAS pensions plans, however, still begin at 65 for eligible Canadians.

The mandatory age for retirement may soon be debated in parliament as the federal government's all-party committee, which has been reviewing Canadian

65. Together with a possible equal number of apprentice seniors there is certainly much talent and expertise available and, to a great extent, being used...over-all you're well up on a scale of 1:10. Keep it up.

Don't forget to sign up for the special luncheon day at the Drop-In Centre on February 19.

In spite of the foul weather, the Club Room at your Legion was packed for the official re-opening of the newly renovated bar. In her remarks at the opening, President Joan Irish thanked all who were there and gave special thanks to the master carpenter Peter Bounsall and the Manager

Jim Tice for all their work and efforts.

Reeve Murray Fearrey and Deputy Reeve Bill Davis were also in attendance at this wine and cheese party.

The president also thanked all those who so generously donated monies to assist with the reconstruction of the bar and made special mention of a special couple, Bob and Isabelle Clough who really started the whole donations bit.

Last Thursday night the first Bluegrass Festival Committee meeting was held prior to the general meeting. Chairmen were selected for the various committees and further planning was done. One thing became quickly evident at this meeting. Many volunteers will be needed to make this festival a success. Volunteer sheets are now posted in the club room. Please sign up for one of the committees. We need you.

Bluegrass Festival promoter Tony DeBoers will be here on the Sunday of the Dart Tournament. He is bringing us all the information about our Bluegrass Festival. He will also have the tickets and advertising for the visit by Mac Wiseman and the Whisky Jacks on March 22. On the Monday after his visit, advance tickets will go on sale for this show. Make sure you get your tickets early. This is a great chance to see and hear the King of Bluegrass Music.

What an entertainer we had at the Legion last Saturday night. The Yorkshire Lad, Del Dickenson, had everyone laughing and enjoying his talents as a storyteller and instrumentalist. A lovely fish and chips lunch was served near the end of the evening. Hopefully we can book Del again. We would like to make his visits an annual event.

Donations from your Legion have gone to Judy Precoor, who lost her home to fire recently and to the Heart and Stroke Foundation. We will also be donating the hall and meals for hockey players when the Minor Hockey Association holds its annual banquet.

The date for the annual Legion Public Speaking County finals has been changed to Thursday, March 20, at 7 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

Cadets are going well. We now have 87 cadets enrolled and after this past Monday session we will have to place any new applicants on a waiting list.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: What did the octopus wear on cold days?

A: A coat of arms.

Knock, knock.

Who's there?

Ben.

Ben who?

Ben down and tie my shoes, please.

Q: What is an argument?

A: Two people trying to get the last word first.

Q: How do you quiet an overcoat?

A: Wear a muffler.

Q: Why do we buy shoes?

A: Because we can't get them for nothing.

New arrival is a baby boy for Lisa and Brett Porter and grandson of Darlene and Bill Porter and Jean and Philip Corby and great-grandson for Irene Stamp.

Happy valentine good wishes to the Hills of Willowdale from the Cliff Lacey.

Larry Harrison of Toronto spent a few days visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Harrison.

Congratulations to Lorraine Perry of Ingoldsby on receiving the Carl Sanders scholarship at Nipissing University where she is presently working on her intermediate teaching certificate. The $1200 award was presented January 18 for having an over 80% average for four consecutive years while attending Laurentian University in Sudbury. Parents Ron and Wendy Gambell (Perry) attended the ceremony in North Bay; grandparents Dorothy and Taylor Wilkins are naturally very proud and happy.

There are a good many tapes at the Branch Libraries in this county, both music and talking tapes. Some new ones came the last week in January to the Minden branch and especially like the old radio programmes like Amos and Andy and Fibber McGee and Molly.

Wednesday, February 19, is the Women's Institute meeting at the Library-Cultural Centre at 2 p.m. and there will be a movie. Don't forget the roll call of a verse. All ladies are welcome.

Our local health unit designates this week as Family Planning week in our county. An interesting film about sex education will be shown by a community health nurse at St. Paul's Anglican Church hall on Thursday, February 13 at 7:30 p.m. The film is called Family Talks about Sex. Everyone welcome.

A ladies Zone Darts tournament was held at Kinmount last Saturday with 26 teams entered. The winning team No. 2 from Haliburton was the winner and was composed of captain Gwen Cox, Doris McCall, Ruby Mighton and Fay McKay. This team will play again later in the district tournament. There were many lovely door prizes and a raffle as well.

It was interesting to me to watch the ladies figure skating on Sunday as Tracy Wainman was the winner and we had seen her at our Figure Skating carnival.

The Thrift Shop will open again this weekend on Friday afternoon after 1:30 beside the Health Food Store.

All good wishes to Bonnie Lee Berry who had surgery and also to Edna Trumbull who has been in hospital.

Winners at last Thursday afternoon Euchre games at St. Paul's church hall were - lone hands (on a cut) Ada Turrall and Marian Ingram, Johann Beattie, Joyce Hewitt (Man's) and Alice Todd (Man's).

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late William Mattice of Gooderham, Clarence Stonehouse and Charlie Allen, Buckhorn. (Joe Warburton's brother.)

The Minden Kinette Valentine dance will be held February 15 at the Recreation Centre from 8-1 with door and spot prizes and light lunch. D.J. Tommy Williamson will provide the music and their quilt will be drawn for at that dance.

We were fortunate to miss the bad storm which hit Toronto on Friday but we have a good deal of snow for all the winter sports.

Two simple things I propose, On income forms for best; Put down, please, all you have earned, And send in all that's left.

J.M. Drescher

We got a nice lift last week when we received our first Seed and Garden Catalogue. Sure setting us dreaming of nicer weather.

Our own valentine good wishes to all you good people who phone in articles for this column. Keep smiling!

Friends of Les Northey will be very happy to hear that he is now home after a very long stay in hospital. Les has been under hospital care since December 20 last year and his friends and family are much relieved to have him home and feeling better.

Club 35 Monday evening card party winners this week included: Most lone hands, George Alsop, high lady Mary Stevenson, and high man was shared by Hal Burton and Bill Donnelly. The door prize went to Jack Weekes and other prize-winners were Jack Gregory, Ines Mestroni and Mary Stevenson (again.)

senior league

Dear Readers

Well here it is Monday again and a week gone in February. Time sure flies!

We had Fun and Fitness Monday morning and crafts in the afternoon as usual. Those who were able to go to these sure enjoy them.

We still have quite a few sick folks in here, 'flu and colds and they sure are hard to clear up.

Linda showed us two films in the auditorium after supper and they were really colourful and interesting. One was the "Canadians at Queen Elizabeth II Coronation, 1953." 33 years ago in June. It was really beautiful. The other was "Canadians can Dance" with all the different folk dances that Canadians do. The different national dress of the dancers and how they can really move. Almost made us envious.

Mrs. Annie Cox had her daughter Beulah and granddaughter Tina Gilbert in for lunch with her one day.

Thursday was a big day for Mrs. Ellen Knight as it was her 101st birthday. They held open house in the auditorium from 2-4 p.m. The Auxiliary served a lovely lunch, tea, coffee and sandwiches and cookies and all kinds of goodies topped off with birthday cake. Mrs. Knight received a lot of cards, gifts and good wishes of all kinds.

Albert Foster and Steve Crowe came in and called and helped with bingo. There was a good crowd out and everyone enjoyed it. We thank them very much.

There have been quite a few visitors in this last week or so in spite of 'flu etc.

We had a good quiz Tuesday. These are very interesting and we always learn a little something. You never know what the questions will be.

Angus Coulter is coming right along with the ceramics. He is making some very nice things indeed.

Doris showed us the show "Pillow Talk" on the VCR in the lounge on Friday afternoon. Most everyone enjoyed it, it's an oldie, but then so are we!

I was home on the weekend so may have missed something, but this is all I have for this week.

Be sure to watch for the icy patches we have just enough snow now to hide them.

Take care, see you next week.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

CHACE news

Eric Lilius

CHACE is supporting a series of films and discussions presented by Margaret Graham, Public Health Nurse. Last month she presented an excellent film "A Family Talks About Sex". This is a frank and open film about sexual situations that arise in the average family. It follows the children and their parents from preschool through marriage. I wish more people had seen this film, and I recommend it to anyone with children. These situations will come up. This film will be shown again in the next few weeks.

On Wednesday 19, at 11 a.m. she will be presenting "First Foods" about starting solid foods and "Zoosters" a film for children, set in a zoo.

For those of you engaged in a home business or thinking about starting one, Glenis Gater will share her expertise on getting the most out of your income tax situation. If you are doing child care in the home, these sessions will be of interest to you. The dates are February 24 and March 6 at CHACE Place. Come to either one. We have received

Guild news

by Leo Dobrzensky

Next week, the rug hookers will be honouring their two oldest members, Stella Stinson, 85 and Bea Taylor, 76, with a birthday party.

Both women joined the guild at its inception and are still active within the group. The rug hookers are also organizing a bus tour to Quebec City from June 8-12. There are extra seats available on the bus. If interested, please call Joan Stinson at 457-1110 or Mary Fedorchuk at 457-2370.

The smockers' regular meeting is on February 24 at Cathy Mitchell's.

If you wish to join the newly-formed writers' group which has already five members, call Virginia Muenzel at 754-2181.

At the weavers' meeting on February 17, Ted Carson who teaches the Ontario handweavers and master spinners course at Community Colleges, will show slides from his trip to New Zealand.

It was "rags to riches" when a group of eleven weavers fashioned rags, combined with silk, into clothing and produced rugs, pillowcovers and purses from discarded woolen material. The week-long course was taught by Wendy Bateman at Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Don't forget the Carnival on February 14, 15 and 16.

confirmation of funding to set up a Family Resource centre in Minden and Private Home Day Care Services in Haliburton and Minden. The future of the day care centre originally proposed for the LEAD building in Minden is not clear at this time. The staff is busy preparing to purchase the necessities for setting up in Minden. The plan is to set up a temporary location in the Minden Community Centre in April. We are on the lookout for a permanent location. The recently advertised Home Day Care Visitor position will be filled soon and there will be new staff to be hired for the resource centre.

This week we will be making Valentine goodies on Wednesday and there will be a party and potluck lunch on Friday. On the 28th we will need helpers to make and eat pizza. Chopping vegetables and mixing sauce are activities that the young ones love to do.

Lastly, Gary Kenney suggested that we enter the Winter Carnival Snow Sculpture Contest this Saturday. Bring your shovels and snow carving tools to help us make the CHACE logo in three dimensions. We have only three hours to do it!
